So thinking, she moves slowly though deliberately up to him, regarding the while with absolute fervor the exquisite though frail geranium blossom she carries in her hand. Pg 175 It is only partly opened, and is delicately tinted as her own skin. When she is quite close to her guardian she raises her head, and instantly affects a deliciously surprised little manner at the fact of his unexpected () nearness. Ah, Sir Guy, you here she says, airily, with an apparent consummate forgetfulness of all past broils. You are just in time: see what a lovely flower I have for you. Is not the color perfect Is it not sweet proffering to him the pale geranium. It is, replies he, taking the flower mechanically, because it is held out to him, but hardly looking at it. His face is pale with suppressed anger, his lips are closely set beneath his fair moustache; she is evidently not forgiven. And yet I think, he says, slowly,...
